

SHIMURAbros

SHIMURAbros are the sister and brother artist duo of Yuka and Kentaro Shimura. Yuka was born in 1976 in Yokohama and graduated in 2006 from Central Saint Martins College of Art and Design London. Kentaro was born in 1979 in Yokohama and graduated in 2003 from Tokyo Polytechnic University, College of Art. They are known for incorporating elements of sculpture, installation and avant-garde filmmaking. A new expression of imagery is achieved through their inventions. Their works have been shown at The National Art Centre, Tokyo; NUS Museum Singapore; MOCA (Museum of Contemporary Art Taipei); PICA(the Perth Institute of Contemporary Arts Museum), Australia; Museums Quartier, Vienna. "SEKILALA" received the Excellence Prize (Minister of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology Prize) at the 13th Japan Media Arts Festival. SHIMURAbros relocated to Berlin in 2014 on a research grant from the Pola Art Foundation, where they are currently residence artists at the studio of Olafur Eliasson.
